experience expanded physiological function in diverse environments, exercises and increased capacity during environmental stimulation, the production and behavioral actions associated with neurotransmission, emotional state and Dr. South-Paul is widely recognized for her research in the biological, social, and family physiology and a member of the American Academy of Physicians.

The Association of American Medical Colleges is a department of the American Board of the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Florida School of African American Medicine.

As a member of the National Academy of Engineering, she serves on the University of Florida School of Medicine.

An expert in the field of medicine, her research focuses on the environmental sciences, with a particular interest in the effect of environmental factors on human health and disease.

South-Paul, MD serves as the Department of Family
CAREERSHIP
SOUTH-Paul, MD
JEANNETTE E. CAREERSHIP
University of Pittsburgh
Application for Clerkship

About the Fellowship of South-Paul, MD Clerkship

The Fellowship of South-Paul, MD Clerkship is an innovative program designed to provide experienced medical students with an immersive clerkship experience. This program aims to prepare students for leadership roles in medicine by offering a unique combination of clinical, research, and administrative tasks.

The Fellowship is open to medical students in their third or fourth year of study. Applicants are selected based on their academic achievements, clinical experience, and demonstrated leadership potential.

Throughout the Fellowship, students will have the opportunity to work closely with experienced clinicians and researchers, gaining valuable insights into the practice of medicine.

The Fellowship of South-Paul, MD Clerkship is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive environment, and candidates from all backgrounds are encouraged to apply.

Applicants should submit their applications online by August 1, 2023. For more information, please visit the Fellowship's website.
An hour east of Philadelphia, the scenic Laurel Highlands Mountain Recreation Area offers

In addition to its major appeal, the Laurel Highlands Mountain Recreation Area's real treasures can be found within the park. The varied terrain can be explored on foot, and many miles of trails provide opportunities for hikers and nature lovers.

The initiative has been developed to encourage the region's economic growth and further the area's status as a premier outdoor recreation destination. The annual event:

Festa Italiana, a celebration of Italian culture and cuisine, is a highlight of the park's events.

Recreation

Sports

The destination and its amenities attract a wide variety of outdoor enthusiasts.